Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."

Cardul is sold at drug stores here.

been granted to the undersigned on the 23rd day of September, said County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be forever barred.

A Fair Question A Fair Answer

UST recently we received a letter from one of our good customers which asked this question:

"Food, clothing, rent have all gone down these past few years. Why shouldn't rates for electricity in Alabama come down too?"

This is a fair question. It calls for a fair answer. The answer is: "THEY HAVE."

To give an exact answer to the customer who asked this question we looked up his bills for the first six months of 1932. Then we figured what he would have actually paid during these same six months for same amount of electricity under rates which prevailed in former years. And this was the record:

FOR HOUSEHOLD ELECTRICITY

Same Bill at Same Bill at Rates in Rates in $31.77 $54.29 $63.81 $76.58

FOR ELECTRICITY USED IN HIS BUSINESS Same Bill at Same Bill at Same Bill at

$56.60

The case of this customer is fairly typical of that of other customers in towns throughout the state. Electricity is today's biggest bargain—especially in Alabama-where household rates are about 16% BELOW the national
